The Fairfax-Falls Church Community Services Board's Chantilly office's programs provide assessment and treatment for children and adults who are not in need of emergency intervention. The services for adults include individual, couples, family and group therapy, medication management and targeted outreach and support programs for people with mental illness. The services for children and youth include individual, family, group therapy, play therapy, child guidance, parenting skills, and medication management. Consultation and assessment concerning issues of abuse, neglect, and criminal actions are offered to the Court system. Discharge planning services are provided to children and youth returning to the community from hospitals.
