HomeAgain operates on the Housing First principle, they work to secure housing for those who need it. The service is not meant to be a long-term solution, instead, it is designed to end homelessness and return those in a temporary housing crisis to stability as quickly as possible.

To be eligible for this program, the individual or family must already be in HomeAgain's system, in a shelter. After being in a shelter for several days, an application for housing and financial assistance can be made.
