IKOR Transport offers wheelchair and senior-focused transportation with a caregiver's eye for wellbeing. They are available for door-to-door trips for folks who just need a ride, as well as room-to-room transportation for people who need more support. They can wait while passengers conduct their business, help with sign-in paperwork at doctors' offices, and stop at grocery stores or pharmacies on the way home. Their drivers are dementia trained, and CPR and First Aid certified. IKOR Transport's dispatcher is fluent in English, ASL and available to communicate with the hearing impaired via video conferencing on a smartphone.

You pay for our services once your ride is complete and our driver will accept all major credit and debit cards.
